John E. Turner Burs Erirange, a Two-Year-

Old Trotter, for $8,400 for a Philadelphian Old Trotter, for $8,400 for a Philadelphian Carlyle Carne Goes to Foshall Keene for $600 - Marcus Daiy's Let Brings $23,430. The Fasig-Tipton Company's Old Glory sale opened at Madison Square Garden yesterday morning with every indication of its being a record breaker. The consignment from the Bitter Root Stock Farm, the property of the late Marcus Daiy, was the first lot catalogued, and when George Bain, the silver-tongued auctioneer from Kentucky, called for bids on the fast three-year-old, Lady Thisbe, 2:16%, by Milroi, there was a larger crowd in the Garden than ever attended a morning sale. The bidding started off briskly and it required only a few minutes to sell her to A. M. Hamilton of Wheeling. utes to sell her to A. M. Hamilton of Wheeling, representing Henry Schmulbach, the wealthy brewer of that city, for $4,100. The top price of the morning was realized on Erirange, a splendid two-year-old trotter by Prodigal. The contending bieders were Gen. John E. Turner of Ambier, Pa., the veteran driver and trainer, and William E. Simpson of this city. The latter bid to $5,350, when Gen. Turner raised it and the filly became his property. Turner said he bought the horse for a gentleman in Philadelphia, but did not care to give his name. As a rule the Prodigals and Milrois fetched good prices, but a few of them that did not show very well after their long journey over the Rockies, did not bring all they were worth. Thirty-nine head sold for $25,430. Three of the consignment died on the way. They were Polynesia, by Prodigal; Epistle, by Prodigal, and Mallas, a three-year-old pacer, by Prodigal. Dr. W. E. Orr, who had charge of the came near losing his life with Mallas. He had a relapse of a spinal disease that set him crazy. He commenced to act badly on the road and Dr. Orr was left for several hours lone with him in the car. He was compelled to keep a firm hold on the gelding's head and lead him around one end of the car all the time to keep him from dashing his brains out. An injection of morphine quieted him and he fell exhausted. The doctor, while holding Mailas s head down, fell asleep and when found by the attendants, the horse was resuming his efforts to get up. The doctor's career would have been nded had he succeeded.

A report was circulated during the afternoon that Ed Winters of the Penn Valley Stud, who was said to have spirited the stallion Oakland Baron away, had sold out all the stock and appurtenances of the farm to Mr. Laftin of Philadelphia for $40,000, and had leased the farm to the same gentleman for ten years. By the middle of the afternoon a great crowd filled the Garden. Every seat on the south side was occupied, and several hundred horse-men moved about the enclosure. Among those noticed were: men moved about the enclosure. Among those noticed were:

The first score was made by Larendon for the scrub, on a delayed double pass. He circled the Varsity for a pretty run and a touchdown. After this the first team woike up and the scrub was on the defensive for the remainder of the game. Five times the Varsity scored, twice by Weekes, who ran fifty yards for the first touchdown, and three times by Capt. Moriey. If Columbia Field is sufficiently dry to-day work will be resumed there this afternoon.

ITHACA, Nov. 28.—Cornell's team began their final preparation for the Pennsylvania contest under innuspicious circumstances. The heavy rains had made Percy Field a sea of mud and the water was six inches deep in many places. Several changes were made in the scrub team to get as much weight as possible against the 'Varsity.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Pennsylvania put up the best practice to-day that she has shown this year against the scrub a McCracken, W. Gardiner and Hodge were not in the line-up, due to minor injuries, but the team werked well together and pushed the scrub all over the field. If the team plays as good a game on Thursday there will be no walling in the Quaker camp that evening. that evening.

The annual contest on the gridion between those old livals, the O.ange A.C. and the Newark A.C. will take place at the Orange Coal, on Thanksgiving lay in the morning at 10.45 o'clock, for the Eastern championship trophy, the Weidenmayer cup.

The Manhattan College footcall team will line up against the Harlem Catholic Club eleven at Jasper Oval on Thanksgiving Pay. The teams are old rivals and can be depended upon to formish a struggle worth seeing. The Harlem Catholic Club team is one of the best in the history of that organization, having defeated every club that it has played this season. The Manhattans have been entiplied by the action of the faculty in barring four members of the eleven whose places will be taken by Pommerer, Lynch, McMotrow and Farley.

SIR THOMAS PREFERS SANDY HOOK.

lave never made any objection to it. In fact, I have always spoken of the course in the highest terms.

"No doubt the races last year were prolonged owing to there not being wind sufficient to finish within the time limit, but my opinion is that with sufficient wind there could not be any better or fairer course, and personally I feel that there would be more glory in fighting the battles over the old historical course, where we have been so often defeated.

way to send a team of golfers to play in the next amateur championship of Great Britain Hoth that event and the open one will next year be decided in Scotland. It is the turn of St. Andrews for the amateur competition where the open tournament was held last year, and it has been fixed for May 7. The time for the open championship, which is scheduled for will take place about a menth after the anatteur. The early date of the latter will make it an easy matter for any of our players to go to the St. Andrews meeting and be back for the championship here. By going over the only open event missed on this side would be the spring competition at the Golf Club of Lakewood. An easy way to settle the talk that has cropped up at different times as to the chances an American team would have in Scotland or England, according to a number of the leading metropolitan golfers, would be fer pla; ers who learned to golf here to go over and play at St. Andrews. To visit the "gray city by the Eden" is an everpresent desire with every American golfer, and, quite aside from any hope of winning, the best time for the pilgrimage would be during the amateur championship, held once in four years over the noted links. FOOTBALL.

As Columbia Field was flooded yesterday from the recent rains, the football practice of the Columbia squad was transferred to South Field. Here the 'Varsity lined up against one of the strongest scrubs which have been developed this season. The pick of the regular substitute material was reenforced by three of last year's players, Larendon, Owens and Miller, who formed a combination which puzzled the first eleven for a time early in the game. The first score was made by Larendon for the scrub, on a delayed double pass. He circled the 'Varsity for a pretty run and a touchdown.

One city amateur is cerresponding with the men he would like to see on such a team, and it the trend of opinion is in favor of the pilan he will bring up the matter at the annual meeting of the U.S.G. The stroke is no longer a swing, but a genuine hit delivered with all the force at command. For this purpose the club should be cripped very firmly. It is the kind of a blow that you would give a sanke, for instance—no leve tap, but full of concentrated energy, even to the point of rindictiveness—straight down, without any thought of any far to the wrists resulting. That Sir Thomas Lipton prefers the Sandy Hook course to any other for the America's Cup contest is made plain in the following letter to a personal friend in this city:

"With regard to my personal opinion respecting the best course for the America's Cup contest, I prefer Sandy Hook. I do not think there is in the world a better course for a yacht race than that off Sandy Hook. I have never made any objection to it. In fact, I have always spoken of the course in the highest terms.

"No doubt the races last year were prolonged owing to there not being wind sufficient to finish within the time limit, but my opinion is that with sufficient wind there could not be any better or fairer course, and personally I feel that there would be more glory in fighting the battles over the old historical course, where we have been so often defeated.

"Anylow, there has a last ways been sufficient to finish without the direction and the following letter on the following letter on the fair green A wins. If both balls were on the fair green A wins. If both bal pusilist-actor, who is appearing at the Opera House this week, announced to-day that after the present theatrical season is ended he will re-enter the roped arena. Fitz has all along declared his intention of remaining out of the ring for good. Fitz is satisfied with his present work, but he intends to take another try with the five-ounce gloves before making his final retirement. He will take on any one, he says. Fitzsimmions relates an interesting story concerning Champion Jeffries's latest challenge to him. He declares Manager Billy Brady approached him with the suggestion for a match to be made for advertising purposes alone. It was to be dropped when the theatrical season closed. Fitz says he refused to have anything to do with it.

PHILADELPHIA, Nev. 26 - A short left hool on the point of Jack Bonner's jaw gave Temmy on the peint of Jack Bonner's law gave Teamny West the best of the six-round bout at the Penn Art Club to-night. Throughout the five preceeding rounds, Bonner had a shade the better of it, cetting in some stiff Jabs on West's wind Bonner, however, was perceptibly tired when he answered the bell in the sixth and they had only been fighting a short time when they had only been fighting a short time when they had only been fighting a short time when they had only been fighting a short time when they had only on Bonner's Jaw. He immediately went to his knees and took the count. He stose and clinched and just as West broke from him the bell sounded. Another round would have meant a knockout.

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburg Baseball Club is in this city. It is said that he is trying to secure Jack Doyle to play first base for the Pirates. The New York club needs another infielder and the Pittsburgs need a first baseman, and a deal between the two clubs may be made.

Girl Teams of Teachers' College and Manual Training High School Victorious

Teachers' College girls defeated the young women from Normal College in a hard, fast game of basketball yesterday afternoon in the Teachers' College gymnasium. The Normal girls came prepared to win at any cost, accompanied by a large crowd of enthusiastic "rooters." When the teams lined up, however, it was evident that the Teachers' College players outweighed their opponents by many pounds. outweighed their opponents by many pounds. The game started off with a rush. The Normal girls having the advantage of lightness and quickness took the lead in the first half and made the first score by a pretty throw by Miss Kirkman. Three more points were scored by the Normale, although the Morningside team fought its best to prevent it. Two goals were thrown by the Teachers, and the half ended with the scores to 4 in favor of Normal College. The second half was much rougher than the first and play ceased many times on account of fouls. There was little slugging, but Referee Jardine was compelled to warn the players against kicking. From their aggresive manner one night have thought that a team of boys was playing had it not been for the fact that play was frequently stopped for the young women to adjust their hair. In this half the superior weight of the Teachers' college team is egan to tell and five goals were scored by them in quick succession. The Normals got only two goals, though they fought like tigers from start to finish. The final score was 14 to 12 in favor of Teachers' College. For the Normal college Miss Kirkham and Miss Murphy played especially well, while Miss Beegle and Miss Stam were easily the stars for Teachers' College. The line-up follows:

The match was played at the Hasbrouck Institute, Pacific avenue, Jersey City Heights. Both teams played well and the passing, throwing, blocking and interference in breaking up tries for goals were cleverly executed. The Jersey City players put up one of the best games they have ever played. Last season when these two teams met the Brooklyn girls won with a shut-out. Yesterday the accuracy of the goal throwing of the Manual Training High School girls backed up by expert team work in passing the sphere was what won the match for them. The line-up follows:
